

For most people, taking a public bus is a simple, everyday affair, but it can be daunting for people with mobility challenges and disabilities.

You can help change that. The Public Bus Inclusivity Course by Tower Transit is designed to help you help others. It will give you hands-on training in skills and sensitivities to assist your fellow passengers and foster a more caring and inclusive commuting culture.

This course is a companion to the Public Bus Confidence Course which is designed to help people with mobility challenges regain their confidence to travel on public buses.
